HOW TO UNLOCK A COMPETITOR, THE HEART 124
This is the most relatable the NBA All-Time Leading Scorer LeBron James has ever been to people.

THINK, ACT AND PLAY LIKE A PRO 134
There are many layers to player development, but in Los Angeles, the path starts in the South Bay.

As governor, Jeanie Buss oversees all aspects of the Los Angeles Lakers organization, working closely with President of Business Operations Tim Harris and Vice President of Basketball Operations and General Manager Rob Pelinka. In 2020, Buss became the first female Governor to lead an organization to an NBA Championship, when the Lakers won their 17th title.

Having represented the team on the NBA's Board of Governors for 30 years, Buss is currently a member of the NBA Advisory and Finance Committee and the NBA Labor Committee. She serves as an Honorary Trustee of the University of Southern California, her alma mater, and is on the Board of LA28, the group overseeing the return of the Olympics to Los Angeles.

She is a co-host of Lakers All-Access, a yearly event presented by nonprofit organization LA Sports and Entertainment Commission (LASEC), of which she sits on the board. Buss is also a founding member of the Core Leadership Group of ChampionLA, an initiative led by LASEC to fulfill the financial obligations of hosting major sporting events that deliver tremendous economic and community impact for Los Angeles. She will be inducted into the CIF LA City Section Hall of Fame in April 2025.

In 2023, she won an Emmy Award for executive producing "Legacy: The True Story of the LA Lakers", a 10-part docuseries which aired on Hulu and Disney+. Buss is also currently involved with leading the revival of WOW – Women of Wrestling, which returned to television screens in 2022. Her award-winning tequila company "Cincoro" – launched in collaboration with Michael Jordan, Wes Edens, Emilia Fazzalari and Wyc Grousbeck – recently celebrated its fifth anniversary.

Buss sits on the board of the Shaquille O'Neal Foundation and supports Baby2Baby, Canine Companions for Independence and Wags and Walks among many other charitable endeavors, while also working internally with the Lakers Youth Foundation to raise money for Southern California Youth charities.

Jeanie is married to actor and comedian Jay Mohr and is stepmother to his 13-year-old son Mackie.

ROB PELINKA

VICE PRESIDENT OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS & GENERAL MANAGER

After seven full seasons with the Lakers, Vice President of Basketball Operations & General Manager Rob Pelinka has transformed the team DNA, constructing a roster and staff that earned the franchise their 17th NBA championship in 2020.

Pelinka helped make one of the most significant free agent signings in team history in 2018 when the Lakers added four-time NBA MVP LeBron James, following that with a franchise-altering trade that brought eight-time NBA All-Star Anthony Davis to Los Angeles. With other key additions, Pelinka had assembled a championship contender. LA went on to clinch the top seed in the Western Conference, the franchise's 24th Pacific Division title and the team's first championship since 2010 by defeating Portland, Houston, Denver and Miami in the 2020 NBA Playoffs.

After reaching the Western Conference Finals in 2023, Pelinka and the Lakers prioritized roster continuity heading into the 2023-24 season, leading to 47 wins and a spot in the 2024 NBA Playoffs. In the most recent offseason, Pelinka spearheaded a new era of Lakers basketball with the hiring of JJ Redick as the 29th head coach in Lakers history and the 25th of the Los Angeles era. With a new leader at the helm, the Lakers selected Dalton Knecht and Bronny James in the 2024 NBA Draft, as the team embarked on an offseason centered around player development. Pelinka also signed superstar LeBron James to a contract extension ahead of the 2024-25 season as the Lakers look to win the 18th championship in team history.

Off the court, Pelinka has reignited the Lakers commitment to player development by launching the Lakers Genius Talks, a series of life-skills discussions for Lakers players led by luminaries such as Denzel Washington, Kendrick Lamar, Allyson Felix, Dwayne Johnson and Michael B. Jordan.

In his role, Pelinka coordinates all day-to-day functions of the Basketball Operations Department, helping to manage personnel decisions, contract negotiations, salary cap strategies and scouting. He oversees and collaborates with his staff on all offseason activities, including the draft process, summer league, free agency and training camp.

Pelinka joined the Lakers after spending the greater part of two decades representing many of the NBA's top players as an agent. Named by Forbes as one the Top 10 Sports Agents in the World, Pelinka's experience gives him a unique, player-centric perspective of the NBA landscape that has helped shape the core values for the franchise.

The Lake Forest, Ill., native earned his business degree from the University of Michigan's Ross School of Business with high honors in 1993, before receiving his law degree, cum laude, from the University of Michigan Law School in 1996. While on campus at Michigan, Pelinka was a member of the 1989 NCAA National Championship basketball team, taking part in three NCAA Final Fours (1989, 1992, 1993) for the Maize & Blue. In 1993, Pelinka was named the NCAA Walter Byers Male Student-Athlete of the Year. Upon graduation, Pelinka practiced corporate law in Chicago and then embarked on a successful career as a sports agent, representing some of the all-time greats and many future NBA Hall-of-Famers, including the Lakers own Kobe Bryant.

Pelinka, 54, makes his home in Newport Beach with his wife, Dr. Kristin Pelinka, his son, Durham (16), and his daughter, Emery (14). Pelinka's off court interests include trail running, mountain biking, reading great literature and spending as much time with his kids as his work schedule permits. Pelinka and his family take joy serving in leadership capacities at The Exceptional Families Ministry of Mariners Church in Irvine, Calif., and at The Painted Turtle Camp in Lake Hughes, Calif. Pelinka is also a proud member of the Mamba & Mambacita Sports Foundation Board of Directors.

JJ REDICK

JJ Redick enters his first season as head coach of the Los Angeles Lakers. The 40-year- old was hired on June 20, 2024, as the 29th head coach in Lakers history and the 25th of the Los Angeles era.

It marks Redick's first coaching role following an impressive 15-year NBA playing career. From 2006-21, the former guard appeared in 940 career regular season games (488 starts) suiting up for Dallas, New Orleans, Philadelphia, LA Clippers, Milwaukee and Orlando. Overall, Redick averaged 12.8 points, 2.0 rebounds and 2.0 assists in 25.5 minutes per game. Known for his shooting prowess, Redick was a career 41.5-percent shooter from long distance and his 1,950 made 3-pointers still stand 20th all-time in NBA history.

In his 15 NBA seasons, Redick was part of 14 teams that advanced to the playoffs. In 110 postseason games (70 starts), he averaged 10.9 points, 1.6 rebounds and 1.6 assists with the Magic, Bucks, Clippers and 76ers.

Quickly following his retirement from the league Sept. 21, 2021, Redick was hired by ESPN as a game analyst and was eventually promoted to the network's lead broadcast team by the end of the 2023-24 season. In June of 2024, Redick called the NBA Finals alongside colleagues Mike Breen and Doris Burke. Redick is a co-founder of ThreeFourTwo Productions where he co-hosted two popular podcasts, including "Mind the Game," alongside Lakers star LeBron James as well as "The Old Man and the Three."

Selected No. 11 overall in the 2006 NBA Draft by the Magic, Redick played four collegiate seasons (2002-06) for Duke University, averaging 19.9 points, 2.7 rebounds, 2.2 assists and 1.1 steals in 34.0 minutes over 139 games for the Blue Devils. Redick was a two-time consensus first-team All-American and was named the 2006 Naismith Men's College Player of the Year. Redick, who remains the school's all-time leading scorer, had his No. 4 jersey retired Feb. 4, 2007. The university also announced that Redick will be inducted into the Duke Athletics Hall of Fame in 2024. Redick chose Duke after a standout career at Cave Spring High School in Roanoke, Va., where he was a McDonald's All-American as a senior.

Redick and his wife, Chelsea, have two sons, Knox and Kai.

On it.

Ending racial injustice requires all of us to work together and take real action.
What can you do to help?

- [ ] Educate yourself about the history of American racism, privilege and what it means to be anti-racist.
- [ ] Commit to actions that challenge injustice and make everyone feel like they belong, such as challenging biased or racist language when you hear it.
- [ ] Vote in national and local elections to ensure your elected officials share your vision of public safety.
- [ ] Donate to organizations, campaigns and initiatives who are committed to racial justice.

AC Green: From Los Angeles Lakers Legend to Food & Beverage Power Broker

AC Green, an iconic professional basketball player with the Los Angeles Lakers, has long been a symbol of resilience and discipline. During Green's stellar NBA career, he played for the Lakers during their legendary "Showtime" era in the 1980s alongside Magic Johnson, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, and James Worthy, earning him a place as one of the all-time greats in basketball history. He also played with Shaquille O'Neal and Kobe Bryant, winning NBA championships three times (1987, 1988, and 2000).

When Green retired from professional basketball, he transitioned into entrepreneurship, rising to prominence in the food and beverage industry. His commitment to promoting a healthy lifestyle—something that defined his NBA career—continues to guide his business ventures today.

Through Warrior Beverages and Ironman 45 Healthy Food Products, Green draws from his experience as a professional athlete to create products that emphasize hydration and energy for athletes and active individuals. These product lines have gained recognition as healthier alternatives to sugar-laden energy drinks, sodas, and snacks. His ventures reflect his enduring passion for health and wellness, a legacy of discipline that echoes his years on the court.

Beyond business, Green's AC Green Youth Foundation mentors and educates young people, focusing on themes of abstinence, discipline, and perseverance. The leadership and character he exhibited as a player are now used to empower youth through sports and education.

In 2024, Green reached a new milestone in his post-basketball life when he received the prestigious United States Presidential Lifetime Achievement Award. From his leadership on the court to his business successes and philanthropy, Green's life has touched and inspired countless individuals.

For AC Green, success is not just about accolades—it's about using his platform to make a lasting impact on the world. His journey serves as a powerful testament to how hard work, discipline, and a commitment to service can lead to success in multiple arenas, from basketball courts to boardrooms.

As AC Green once said, "The same discipline that kept me going in the NBA is the same discipline that will keep you going in life—every day seek to be the best version of yourself."

RIVERSIDE COUNTY

A HUB FOR BUSINESS AND INNOVATION

YOUR GATEWAY TO BUSINESS SUCCESS Covering 7,303 square miles and strategically located near Los Angeles, San Diego, and major ports, Riverside County offers exceptional growth opportunities for businesses. Supported by a skilled workforce from 18 local colleges, Riverside County's GDP grew by 37.2% from 2017 to 2022, making it California's fourth fastest-growing large county - a prime environment for entrepreneurs.

VIBRANT ECONOMY, THRIVING INDUSTRIES Riverside County's diverse economy - from tourism in Temecula Valley Wine Country and Greater Palm Springs to key sectors like education, automotive, healthcare, and aerospace - has attracted top companies like KTM, which established their North American headquarters here.

LEADING THE WAY IN TECHNOLOGY AND CLEAN ENERGY The county excels in Clean Energy, Health Tech, Life Sciences, AgTech, and Climate Tech, supported by nine innovation centers and the University of California, Riverside, the region's top R&D institution - solidifying its position as an innovation leader.

A COMMUNITY OF INNOVATION With achievements like the creation of the California Navel Orange, Riverside County's innovative spirit endures. In the emblematic words of the beloved Kobe Bryant: "Job's not finished" - the county continuously drives growth and is focused on future progress, connecting public and private sectors to attract new businesses and support established ones with financial, strategic, and technical assistance. This commitment to progress fosters a resilient economy and a thriving community of visionaries, entrepreneurs, and leaders.

HelpCureHD aims to help improve the quality of life for those affected by Huntington's Disease by contributing financial, emotional, and mental support while trying to find the cure.

THE PROBLEM

There is no cure for Huntington's Disease. Currently, there is a 50/50 chance a child could inherit the disease if a parent has HD in their family line.

There is a way to stop the gene from being passed on, through in vitro fertilization, or IVF. A procedure that implants embryos that do not have the HD gene can cost upwards of $25,000 - $30,000. This treatment is the only way parents who are at risk can guarantee their biological child will be HD-free.

OUR GOALS

- Provide the finances for families who are at-risk and in financial need and are willing to undergo IVF in order to stop the HD gene from being passed on in their family line.
- Our broader focus is to continue developing partnerships with fertility clinics across the country and raising funds to help cover these costs for many more families.
- HelpCureHD has already awarded 136 families through its grant program, which means Huntington's Disease will be eradicated from dozens of family lines FOREVER. HCHD has welcomed dozens of healthy babies already born, and many on the way!

HOW TO UNLOCK A COMPETITOR, THE HEART

NBA All-Time Leading Scorer, a few weeks shy of 40, still notching triple-doubles (consecutively)—this is the most relatable LeBron James has ever been to people.

UNLOCK A COMPETITOR

There doesn't need to be another story about how excellent a basketball player LeBron James is. Although a few hundred will be written anyway. We've heard infinite accounts of his memory, mastery and metamorphosis of the game. But this acumen extends past basketball, past entertainment, any industry; it extends to something much greater.

In terms of father, LeBron is often talked about in that context as a player who defies, challenges and occasionally laughs in the face of Father Time. He's called the King, a legend, GOAT, champion, MVP. But as his latest chapter demonstrates, perhaps his most impressive role is dad.

James said, "To be in the position I am today, I didn't have that growing up. I didn't have that father in the household every single day, giving me those dad tips, those dad roles, those keys to success."

LeBron was raised by his mother Gloria James. His father was absent. And under the supervision of the entire world, it wasn't enough for him to cement himself as a basketball player whose talent will transcend generations, but a present father who shows nothing but unconditional love and support for his kids.

He did the best he could with no blueprint in the home, and like LeBron always does, he reached another standard entirely.

"I already knew when I had kids, the example I was going to set from day one," LeBron said. "And to be able to be in the position I am where I travel so much, I play so much, the game of basketball takes me all over the world, and also still have a presence in my kids' lives, it's a blessing. I love it."

It's always hard to find the answer to "how" when discussing LeBron's achievements: Still tomahawk dunking at 38, winning gold and the Olympic MVP at 39, always evolving the game, and about to break more records at 40... But how he is as a father is seen through the reflection of his kids: Bronny's good nature, Bryce's rise and Zhuri's flare. It's also a reflection of the strong partnership with his wife, Savannah.

The topic is brought up about competing against his son on a professional stage. Most dads can only resort to the driveway or park down the road. But as every father knows, at all costs, you must win.

UNLOCK A COMPETITOR

Everyone's witnessed LeBron's beast mode, and if you haven't, you've seen the memes. But could this father-son dynamic unlock an even more dangerous competitor?

"Yeah," he says matter of fact with a laugh.

"But it's fun though," he explained of playing on the same team as Bronny. "One thing about me, I ain't never in competition with my family, especially with my kids and my wife. I ain't never in competition with them. But one thing that we have that came naturally is we just all have a competitive bone. A competitive gene. So, whatever we're doing, if we're playing basketball, if I'm playing basketball with Bronny and Bryce and we're shooting around or if we're playing board games or card games at the house with the whole family, if you've ever seen my daughter, she's super competitive. She's a competitor. That's just how we are as a family."

And where carving out a new category of NBA History isn't a space many men experience with their sons, how LeBron felt after his most prominent roles collided this season is something that many dads can understand. He was met with a greater sense of responsibility. A deeper consideration of his importance as a father.

"I cannot afford to have any slippage; I'm trying to set an example for his career as well," he said. "Every day that I'm around him, you know. I'm not saying that I've ever had slippage, but it's even more dialed in because he's seen it from the outside all these years. Now he's seeing it from the inside."

He watched as Bronny entered the game in their home state of Ohio and scored his first basket in the NBA. He listens to the chants from sold-out arenas, in LA and across the country, who chant "we want Bronny," and he knows what he must do as his dad and his teammate.

He explained, "It's my job to organically show him the ropes, show him how it really is to be a professional, how to prepare yourself day in and day out no matter if you feel like it or not."

The NBA All-Time Leading Scorer knows the mark he has left (and continues to leave) on the game but still he laughed as he heard the first part of a question, "You're always being described as a legend, and GOAT, superstar." But then he listened intently when he heard, "you're also a dad."

"It's the best role. The best role," LeBron answered.

THINK, ACT AND PLAY LIKE A PRO

There are many layers to player development, but in Los Angeles, the path starts in the South Bay.

By Taylor Geas, Senior Writer for the Los Angeles Lakers

The onset of daylight savings had everyone feeling lethargic by the end of the week. There was a languid energy hanging around the arena ahead of Los Angeles' contest against Toronto. At six minutes in the third quarter, Austin Reaves brought out the defibrillator and shocked the heart of his team–he brought life into the crowd. What he actually did pull out of his bag, this proverbial defibrillator, was a behind-the-back dribble to cruise by Chris Boucher. And then a behind-the-back pass to escape Jamal Shead as Cam Reddish went up for the easy basket–Lakers within three.

You'd think with moves and confidence like that, Reaves had a direct path to the NBA. But he didn't. There was actually slight consideration of not going to the league at all.

The Newark, Arkansas native expressed how he didn't know if going back to the University of Oklahoma was the right path to yield the results he wanted. He contemplated going to play overseas, as his brother Spencer had done in Germany since 2018. Reaves said how he had "many, long vent sessions" with Spencer. The sessions all rooted back to one haunting thought: Would he ever get the opportunity to show what he could do?

"There were multiple times where I didn't think any of this was possible," Reaves said. "Especially when I think back from my junior year to my senior year, with Covid and not knowing how everything was going to work out. That was probably the most frustrated I was. I was back home with my brother, and we were in the gym, and he basically looked at me, he was mad at me and was like 'What do you want to do. Do you want to play in the NBA, or do you want to be just a guy that goes overseas?'"

"He didn't think that I was doing enough and honestly, I probably wasn't at the time, I was so caught up in the, 'I'm not going to get an opportunity.' That sparked something," he explained of the conversation with Spencer. "If I'm going to give it a try, I've got to give it everything I've got."

Reaves went undrafted in 2021, intentionally in part–he hoped to land in Los Angeles. He did. He signed a two-way contract with the Lakers and their G League team, the South Bay Lakers, which he converted into a rookie spot in the league after that summer. The role player turned into a starting role and soon after, Reaves turned into a Los Angeles staple.

"Really when you look at player development, especially in the context of younger players, what you're talking about is opportunity."
—Zach Guthrie

Reaves' journey is a case study for players looking to break into the NBA. His story is ripe with doubt, mental fortitude, hard work and triumph. But AR's quest also offers insight into the layers of opportunity, it's never the keys to the castle; opportunity is merely a knock at the door.

"Really when you look at player development, especially in the context of younger players," South Bay Lakers new head coach Zach Guthrie said, "what you're talking about is opportunity."

Coach Guthrie, a first-time head coach of the Lakers G League affiliate, joins the franchise in a pivotal season when player development has been deemed crucial to team success.

"I don't take this lightly," Guthrie said of his role, "I see it as a stewardship. My job is just to be as much of an extension of the Lakers as possible. I was with them all training camp. I was with them all through preseason. I tried to learn and absorb exactly what they want, their identity."

Guthrie comes by way of recommendation from Lakers head coach, JJ Redick, who he coached as a player in Orlando before Redick was traded, and in Dallas where he was paired with him as his player development coach fittingly.

But Guthrie explains where his mission is to align with the Lakers' core building blocks, he is not aiming to be Redick. "...I have to be myself, I have to be authentically me," he said.

But some of the players have already started to pinpoint similarities between their two styles. Two-way center Christian Koloko shared how he likes to be coached hard and directly told the right thing to do. He said he appreciates how real Redick is and cited how Guthrie is the same, "He's a really nice guy but if he wants to get on you, he's going to get on you.

That's something I really like about him. He'll tell you what he needs to tell you but he's also a really nice guy."

Guthrie, who arrived after most recently being an assistant to the Wizards, has been in basketball since 2007. With positions in video coordinating, scouting and assistant coaching, he's declared as head coach that his program is rooted in a holistic approach on how to be a pro. A system that players of this franchise already recognize the value in.

Max Christie, a South Bay graduate who signed a contract with the Lakers this summer, credited his growth to observing how everyone "goes about their business." As did Koloko, who shared how having access to observe LeBron James and Anthony Davis is instrumental. "Every day the way they approach the game, how early they come to practice to get their body ready and watching before and after the game everything they do to be ready," he said of what he's seen.

Similarly, Jalen Hood-Schifino, considered a South Bay vet, expressed how what's served him most as a player is, "just being a pro on and off the court, watching film, learning the game, taking care of your body and making sure you're taking care of your responsibilities."

This is precisely in line with Guthrie's approach to development as he pointed out specific areas such as: how to take care of your body, how to watch film, and also develop and layer in "all the decision making, all the different things off the ball that these players need to be able to do."

There is a mental side to development as well, as Reaves pointed out. And Christie confirmed the challenge of keeping a steady outlook. "That's how the season goes, you have highs and lows. I think I've done a good job of adjusting to it but there's still a lot of times where it's difficult. I think that goes for everybody. Everybody has those times where you're high and you're low in life," he said.

But he explained the antidote to giving up is "continuing to put the work in, taking one step forward every single day and trying to get one percent better every single day."

South Bay faced the Salt Lake City Stars on November 9th in their first game and defeated them handedly, 110-96, led by strong performances from Quincy Olivari and Maxwell Lewis.

After the game, Lewis who suited up and played at the end of the game for Los Angeles the night before talked about how he plans to approach each role this season. "Just keeping it simple," he said. "I feel I can take my role more for South Bay, but I want to keep it the same as my role with the [LA] Lakers. When I get that chance to show my game, it's the same thing, nothing different."

Lewis and his teammates played in front of cast members from the Lakers Saturday night. LeBron and his family were in attendance to watch the team, and his son Bronny James. Davis, Redick, and D'Angelo Russell were also sitting courtside. And above the court, in the coaches' conference rooms with windows peering on to the floor, sat the Lakers assistant coaches watching the young talent of their group, talent looking for the opportunity to rise.

When asked what he hopes that opportunity will yield, what he hopes for his basketball career, Olivari answered "To be one of the greatest," flashing his quintessential Quincy smile. "I feel like if anyone says anything less than that they aren't telling the truth. You play this game to leave a legacy, to be great, and put your family in a position to live comfortably."

> "I feel I can take my role more for South Bay, but I want to keep it the same as my role with the [LA] Lakers."

CRYPTO.COM ARENA

For a quarter century, Crypto.com Arena has garnered an unrivaled reputation for excellence having established itself as one of the world's busiest and most successful venues in the world.

Since opening on October 17, 1999, with Bruce Springsteen and the E Street Band, millions of guests have come through the doors of the AEG-owned and operated venue to attend a schedule of prestigious concerts, sporting events, award shows, family shows and other major attractions unmatched by any arena.

THE HOUSE OF CHAMPIONS

As the home of three professional sports franchises – the NBA's Los Angeles Lakers, the NHL's Los Angeles Kings, and the WNBA's Los Angeles Sparks – Crypto.com Arena has proven to be a home court advantage for the local teams with the Lakers capturing six NBA Championships along with the inaugural NBA In-Season Tournament Championship in 2023 and the Kings winning two Stanley Cup titles since 1999, while the Sparks captured back-to-back WNBA Championships in their first two Crypto.com Arena campaigns and brought home their third WNBA Championship in 2016.

Crypto.com Arena continues to distinguish itself as the host of major, high-profile events of national and international distinction including the 2004, 2011 & 2018 NBA All-Star Weekends, the 2002 & 2017 NHL All-Star Games and 2010 NHL Draft, 2002 U.S. Figure Skating Championships, the 2000 Democratic National Convention, 2009 ISU World Figure Skating Championships, 21 GRAMMY Award shows, 11 X Games competitions, 4 WTA Tour Championships, 12 Pac 12 Men's Basketball Championship tournaments and 2013 & 2018 NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Championship West Regional.

TOP TIER ENTERTAINMENT & GLOBAL EVENTS

Crypto.com Arena's incredible history has been marked with performances and special events that brought international stature to Los Angeles' iconic sports & entertainment arena including concerts starring Taylor Swift, Adele, Maná, Prince, Bad Bunny, Drake U2, Garth Brooks, Beyoncé, Usher, TOMORROW X TOGETHER, Paul McCartney, Bon Jovi, Madonna, Christina Aguilera, The Rolling Stones, Dave Matthews, Rod Stewart, Eric Clapton, Janet Jackson, Jay-Z, Simon & Garfunkel, Van Halen, The Chicks, John Mayer, Shania Twain, Peter Gabriel, Ricky Martin, Tina Turner, Luis Miguel, Billy Joel, Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young, Faith Hill & Tim McGraw, Kenny Chesney, Tool, Shakira, Depeche Mode, Cher, Bette Midler, Lady Gaga, Keith Urban, Mariah Carey, Eurythmics, The Police, Bob Seger, Marco Antonio Solis, and a Millennium New Year's Eve spectacular starring the Eagles, Jackson Browne and Linda Ronstadt.

The arena has hosted over 34 nights of boxing including world championship boxing with Lennox Lewis vs. Vitali Klitschko for the World Heavyweight Championship, multiple sold-out WWE dates and UFC events, along with the first-ever Latin Grammy Awards, Disney on Ice, Walking with Dinosaurs and the Harlem Globetrotters.

Crypto.com Arena has also hosted several memorable memorials including the Michael Jackson Public Memorial Service on July 7, 2009, Nipsey Hussle's Celebration of Life on April 11, 2019, and a Celebration of Life for Kobe and Gianna Bryant on February 24, 2020. Due to COVID-19 restrictions, for the first-time in the arena's history, it was able to serve as an official LA County Vote Center on October 24 - November 3, 2020.

BRIMMING WITH INNOVATION

Crypto.com Arena has invested hundreds of millions of dollars to ensure that the venue remains state-of-the-art. In 2024, the arena completed its nine-figure multi-million-dollar renovation project with new amenities and offerings for every guest from premium offerings including a redesigned Yaamava' Club by San Manuel, an expanded Lexus Club and L.A.'s first Tunnel Suites to the all-new City View Terrace located on the upper concourse, which boasts stunning views of L.A. LIVE and the Downtown Los Angeles skyline, as well as serves as the home of celebrity chef David Chang's new fuku spicy chicken concept.

Guests who attend events are treated to the finest entertainment experiences imaginable. The arena has free public Wi-Fi and (as part of a specially designed $1.5 million facility-wide sound system) 675 separate speakers outside of the seating area. In 2022, Daktronics manufactured and installed new LED end wall video displays and more than 3,000 linear feet of ribbon displays. In 2024, Daktronics further enhanced the arena viewing experience by installing a new, six-display, 5,500 square-foot and 41.7-million-pixel center-hung scoreboard specially designed for the arena, which brings fans even closer to the action.

Along Crypto.com Arena's five concourses are twenty-three refreshment stands offering a variety of dining choices including Dirt Dog, Fresh Brothers Pizza, Golden Road Brew House, Ludobab, Ludo Bird, Trois Familia, Salt & Char, Tap Haus, The Spirited Mule, Wetzel's Pretzels and more.

The TEAM LA store located on the main concourse is a retail store featuring official merchandise from the teams and events that call Crypto.com Arena home with satellite locations throughout the facility and L.A. LIVE. Finally, the arena provides fifty-five public restrooms including three family restrooms, five Mamava Lactation Pods and Sensory Pods.

Perhaps the greatest emphasis throughout Crypto.com Arena's development has been the recruitment and training of its guest services and security staff. The Crypto.com Arena experience is second-to-none from the entertainment environment to the staff's commitment to making every guest's visit a memorable one. Never has an arena had the amenities, features, and commitment to quality service that Crypto.com Arena offers to guests each time the doors open for an event. Crypto.com Arena continues to set new standards for the arena industry.

SUSTAINABILITY

As a founding member of the Green Sports Alliance in 2009, for AEG and Crypto.com Arena, sustainability is vital. In June 2024, AEG expanded its partnership with the nation's No. 1 reuse platform, r.World, to bring the reusable r.Cup program into both Crypto.com Arena and Peacock Theater fulltime following a successful pilot program that diverted 23,418 single-use cups during two Depeche Mode shows in the arena in 2023.

Crypto.com Arena was one of the first arenas in the U.S. to install LED sports lighting, solar panels, the fuel-efficient Bloom Energy Cell system and waterless urinals. Water refill stations were installed during recent renovation projects that have currently saved 57,344 single-use bottles. The arena has also had a long relationship with AtmosAir, and post-pandemic continues to offer guests, players, artists, and employees clean, safe air that also reduces HVAC-related energy consumption. In 2023, Crypto.com Arena was awarded WELL Health Safety Rating by the International WELL Building Institute (IWBI).

PHILANTHROPY

Crypto.com Arena's charitable activities are a part of AEG 1Community and its AEG Community Foundation. AEG 1Community seeks to reach beyond the traditional boundaries of business to support the communities where the organization operates. AEG believes that corporate philanthropy and community engagement play a critical role in helping communities thrive and Crypto.com Arena strives to be civic leaders by working to improve the economic and social well-being of local communities where the company operates.

The AEG Community Foundation was established to build on AEG's unwavering commitment to serving children and families through grantmaking. The mission of the Foundation is to support children and families in need through grantmaking in the areas of K-12 education, the arts, health, and wellness. We at AEG believe that corporate philanthropy and community engagement play a critical role in helping communities thrive.

Crypto.com Arena and L.A. LIVE serve as the hub for community engagement and support employee volunteerism activities such as a company-wide Day of Service when, through a partnership with City Year, employees volunteer to refurbish local public schools by providing supplies, painting, cleaning and gardening services.

BUSTLING DINING AND LIVE ENTERTAINMENT CAMPUS

Located directly across the street from Crypto.com Arena is L.A. LIVE, a one-of-a-kind sports and entertainment district in downtown Los Angeles. The four million square foot destination features Peacock Theater, The GRAMMY Museum, and The Novo, giving L.A. LIVE "more music per square foot" than any other location in the world.

The district offers a rich mix of local, regional, and national restaurants including Yard House, Katsuya, Fixins Soul Kitchen, Fleming's Prime Steakhouse & Wine Bar, Tom's Watch Bar, Smashburger, Starbucks, Savoca, Sendero, Lazy Dog Restaurant and Bar and Craft by Smoke & Fire. L.A. LIVE also features 100,000 square feet of special event and hospitality space and the famous Lucky Strike Lanes and Lounge. The development also includes a 54-story, 1,001-room convention "headquarters" hotel (combining JW Marriott and The Ritz-Carlton brands and 224 luxury condominiums – The Ritz Carlton Residences at L.A. LIVE.), the 14-screen Regal L.A. LIVE, along with ESPN's West Coast broadcast headquarters. Also, home to annual award shows including the Primetime EMMYS and BET Awards, L.A. LIVE is recognized worldwide for offering an incomparable and unforgettable entertainment experience.

Chronic Migraine making you feel like a spectator in your own life?

You are not alone.

Could it be Chronic Migraine?
Take the Quiz. Just 7 questions. Then share with your doctor.

INDICATION

BOTOX® (onabotulinumtoxinA) is a prescription medicine that is injected into muscles and used to prevent headaches in adults with chronic migraine who have 15 or more days each month with headache lasting 4 or more hours each day in people 18 years and older.

It is not known whether BOTOX is safe and effective to prevent headaches in patients with migraine who have 14 or fewer headache days each month (episodic migraine).

IMPORTANT SAFETY INFORMATION

BOTOX may cause serious side effects that can be life threatening. Get medical help right away if you have any of these problems any time (hours to weeks) after injection of BOTOX:

- Problems swallowing, speaking, or breathing, due to weakening of associated muscles, can be severe and result in loss of life. You are at the highest risk if these problems are preexisting before injection. Swallowing problems may last for several months.
- Spread of toxin effects. The effect of botulinum toxin may affect areas away from the injection site and cause serious symptoms, including loss of strength and all-over muscle weakness; double vision; blurred vision; drooping eyelids; hoarseness or change or loss of voice; trouble saying words clearly; loss of bladder control; trouble breathing; and trouble swallowing.

There has not been a confirmed serious case of spread of toxin effect away from the injection site when BOTOX has been used at the recommended dose to treat chronic migraine.

BOTOX may cause loss of strength or general muscle weakness, vision problems, or dizziness within hours to weeks of receiving BOTOX. If this happens, do not drive a car, operate machinery, or do other dangerous activities.

Do not receive BOTOX if you are allergic to any of the ingredients in BOTOX (see Medication Guide for ingredients); had an allergic reaction to any other botulinum toxin product such as Myobloc® (rimabotulinumtoxinB), Dysport® (abobotulinumtoxinA), or Xeomin® (incobotulinumtoxinA); have a skin infection at the planned injection site.

The dose of BOTOX is not the same as, or comparable to, another botulinum toxin product.

Serious and/or immediate allergic reactions have been reported, including itching; rash; red, itchy welts; wheezing; asthma symptoms; dizziness; or feeling faint. Get medical help right away if you experience symptoms; further injection of BOTOX should be discontinued.

CHRONIC MIGRAINE

FDA-APPROVED AS A PREVENTIVE CHRONIC MIGRAINE TREATMENT
FOR OVER 13 YEARS*

Why wait? Talk to your doctor about BOTOX® for Chronic Migraine.

BOTOX® prevents headaches in adults with Chronic Migraine, 15 or more headache days a month, each lasting 4 hours or more. BOTOX® is not approved for 14 or fewer headache days a month.

BOTOX® prevents, on average, 8 to 9 headache days and migraine/probable migraine days a month (vs 6 to 7 for placebo).

§Data on file as of December 2023. Data subject to change. Data are not a guarantee of coverage, or partial or full payment, by any payers listed. The cost of BOTOX® is different for everyone. It depends on your insurance, how much your insurance covers for BOTOX®, and what your doctor charges you for the procedure. You will want to check the specifics of your insurance plan, including your deductible and out-of-pocket costs.

Tell your doctor about all your muscle or nerve conditions, such as ALS or Lou Gehrig's disease, myasthenia gravis, or Lambert-Eaton syndrome, as you may be at increased risk of serious side effects, including difficulty swallowing and difficulty breathing from typical doses of BOTOX.

Tell your doctor about all your medical conditions, including if you have or have had bleeding problems; have plans to have surgery; had surgery on your face; have weakness of forehead muscles, trouble raising your eyebrows, drooping eyelids, and any other abnormal facial change; are pregnant or plan to become pregnant (it is not known if BOTOX can harm your unborn baby); are breastfeeding or plan to (it is not known if BOTOX passes into breast milk).

Tell your doctor about all the medicines you take, including prescription and over-the-counter medicines, vitamins, and herbal supplements. Using BOTOX with certain other medicines may cause serious side effects. Do not start any new medicines until you have told your doctor that you have received BOTOX in the past.

Tell your doctor if you received any other botulinum toxin product in the last 4 months; have received injections of botulinum toxin such as Myobloc®, Dysport®, or Xeomin® in the past (tell your doctor exactly which product you received); have recently received an antibiotic by injection; take muscle relaxants; take an allergy or cold medicine; take a sleep medicine; take aspirin-like products or blood thinners.

Other side effects of BOTOX include dry mouth; discomfort or pain at the injection site; tiredness; headache; neck pain; eye problems such as double vision, blurred vision, decreased eyesight, drooping eyelids, swelling of your eyelids, and dry eyes; drooping eyebrows; and upper respiratory tract infection.

For more information, refer to the Medication Guide or talk with your doctor.

You are encouraged to report negative side effects of prescription drugs to the FDA. Visit www.fda.gov/medwatch or call 1-800-FDA-1088.

Patient Information

This summary contains important risk information about BOTOX. This brief summary is not comprehensive and does not take the place of talking with your healthcare provider about your medical condition or treatment. To learn more, talk to your healthcare provider or pharmacist. For a copy of the full Prescribing Information, visit www.BOTOX.com or call 1-800-678-1605.

What is the most important information I should know about BOTOX?

BOTOX may cause serious side effects that can be life threatening, including:

- Problems breathing or swallowing
- Spread of toxin effects

These problems can happen hours, days, to weeks after an injection of BOTOX. Call your doctor or get medical help right away if you have any of these problems after treatment with BOTOX:

- Problems swallowing, speaking, or breathing. These problems can happen hours, days, to weeks after an injection of BOTOX usually because the muscles that you use to breathe and swallow can become weak after the injection. Death can happen as a complication if you have severe problems with swallowing or breathing after treatment with BOTOX.
  - People with certain breathing problems may need to use muscles in their neck to help them breathe. These people may be at greater risk for serious breathing problems with BOTOX.
  - Swallowing problems may last for several months. People who cannot swallow well may need a feeding tube to receive food and water. If swallowing problems are severe, food or liquids may go into your lungs. People who already have swallowing or breathing problems before receiving BOTOX have the highest risk of getting these problems.
- Spread of toxin effects. In some cases, the effect of botulinum toxin may affect areas of the body away from the injection site and cause symptoms of a serious condition called botulism. The symptoms of botulism include:
  - loss of strength and muscle weakness all over the body
  - double vision, blurred vision and drooping eyelids
  - hoarseness or change or loss of voice (dysphonia)
  - trouble saying words clearly (dysarthria)
  - loss of bladder control
  - trouble breathing
  - trouble swallowing

These symptoms can happen hours, days, to weeks after you receive an injection of BOTOX.

These problems could make it unsafe for you to drive a car or do other dangerous activities. See "What should I avoid while receiving BOTOX?"

There has not been a confirmed serious case of spread of toxin effect away from the injection site when BOTOX has been used at the recommended dose to treat chronic migraine, severe underarm sweating, blepharospasm, or strabismus.

What is BOTOX?

BOTOX is a prescription medicine that is injected into muscles and used:

- to treat overactive bladder symptoms such as a strong need to urinate with leaking or wetting accidents (urge urinary incontinence), a strong need to urinate right away (urgency) and urinating often (frequency) in adults when another type of medicine (anticholinergic) does not work well enough or cannot be taken.
- to treat leakage of urine (incontinence) in adults with overactive bladder due to neurologic disease when another type of medicine (anticholinergic) does not work well enough or cannot be taken.
- to treat overactive bladder due to a neurologic disease in children 5 years of age and older when another type of medicine (anticholinergic) does not work well enough or cannot be taken.
- to prevent headaches in adults with chronic migraine who have 15 or more days each month with headache lasting 4 or more hours each day.
- to treat increased muscle stiffness in people 2 years of age and older with spasticity.
- to treat the abnormal head position and neck pain that happens with cervical dystonia (CD) in adults.
- to treat certain types of eye muscle problems (strabismus) or abnormal spasm of the eyelids (blepharospasm) in people 12 years of age and older.

BOTOX is also injected into the skin to treat the symptoms of severe underarm sweating (severe primary axillary hyperhidrosis) when medicines used on the skin (topical) do not work well enough.

It is not known whether BOTOX is safe and effective in people younger than:

- 18 years of age for treatment of overactive bladder with urinary incontinence
- 5 years of age for the treatment of overactive bladder due to a neurologic disease
- 18 years of age for treatment of chronic migraine
- 16 years of age for treatment of cervical dystonia
- 18 years of age for treatment of hyperhidrosis
- 12 years of age for treatment of strabismus or blepharospasm
- 2 years of age for treatment of spasticity

It is not known whether BOTOX is safe and effective to prevent headaches in people with migraine who have 14 or fewer headache days each month (episodic migraine).

It is not known whether BOTOX is safe and effective for severe sweating anywhere other than your armpits.

Who should not receive BOTOX?

Do not receive BOTOX if you:

- are allergic to any of the ingredients in BOTOX. See the end of this Consumer Brief Summary for a complete list of ingredients in BOTOX.
- had an allergic reaction to any other botulinum toxin product such as Myobloc®, Dysport®, or Xeomin®.
- have a skin infection at the planned injection site.
- are being treated for urinary incontinence and have a urinary tract infection (UTI).
- are being treated for urinary incontinence and find that you cannot empty your bladder on your own (only applies to people who are not routinely catheterizing).

What should I tell my doctor before receiving BOTOX?

Tell your doctor about all your medical conditions, including if you:

- have a disease that affects your muscles and nerves (such as amyotrophic lateral sclerosis [ALS or Lou Gehrig's disease], myasthenia gravis or Lambert-Eaton syndrome). See "What is the most important information I should know about BOTOX?"
- have allergies to any botulinum toxin product.
- had any side effect from any botulinum toxin product in the past.
- have or have had a breathing problem, such as asthma or emphysema.
- have or have had swallowing problems.
- have or have had bleeding problems.
- have plans to have surgery.
- had surgery on your face.
- have weakness of your forehead muscles, such as trouble raising your eyebrows.
- have drooping eyelids.
- have any other change in the way your face normally looks.
- have symptoms of a urinary tract infection (UTI) and are being treated for urinary incontinence. Symptoms of a urinary tract infection may include pain or burning with urination, frequent urination, or fever.
- have problems emptying your bladder on your own and are being treated for urinary incontinence.
- are pregnant or plan to become pregnant. It is not known if BOTOX can harm your unborn baby.
- are breastfeeding or plan to breastfeed. It is not known if BOTOX passes into breast milk.

Tell your doctor about all the medicines you take, including prescription and over-the-counter medicines, vitamins and herbal supplements. Using BOTOX with certain other medicines may cause serious side effects. Do not start any new medicines until you have told your doctor that you have received BOTOX in the past.

Especially tell your doctor if you:

- have received any other botulinum toxin product in the last four months.
- have received injections of botulinum toxin, such as Myobloc® (rimabotulinumtoxinB), Dysport® (abobotulinumtoxinA), or Xeomin® (incobotulinumtoxinA) in the past. Be sure your doctor knows exactly which product you received.
- have recently received an antibiotic by injection.
- take muscle relaxants.
- take an allergy or cold medicine.
- take a sleep medicine.
- take anti-platelets (aspirin-like products) or anti-coagulants (blood thinners).

Ask your doctor if you are not sure if your medicine is one that is listed above.

Know the medicines you take. Keep a list of your medicines with you to show your doctor and pharmacist each time you get a new medicine.

How will I receive BOTOX?

- BOTOX is an injection that your doctor will give you.
- BOTOX is injected into your affected muscles, skin, or bladder.
- Your doctor may change your dose of BOTOX, until you and your doctor find the best dose for you.
- Your doctor will tell you how often you will receive your dose of BOTOX injections.

What should I avoid while receiving BOTOX?

BOTOX may cause loss of strength or general muscle weakness, vision problems, or dizziness within hours to weeks of taking BOTOX. If this happens, do not drive a car, operate machinery, or do other dangerous activities. See "What is the most important information I should know about BOTOX?"

What are the possible side effects of BOTOX?

BOTOX can cause serious side effects. See "What is the most important information I should know about BOTOX?"

Other side effects of BOTOX include:

- dry mouth.
- discomfort or pain at the injection site.
- tiredness.
- headache.
- neck pain.
- eye problems: double vision, blurred vision, decreased eyesight, drooping eyelids, swelling of your eyelids, and dry eyes.
- drooping eyebrows.
- urinary tract infection in both children and adults being treated for urinary incontinence.
- painful urination in adults being treated for urinary incontinence.
- bacteria, white blood cells, and blood in the urine of children being treated for urinary incontinence.
- inability to empty your bladder on your own and are being treated for urinary incontinence. If you have difficulty fully emptying your bladder after getting BOTOX, you may need to use disposable self-catheters to empty your bladder up to a few times each day until your bladder is able to start emptying again.
- allergic reactions. Symptoms of an allergic reaction to BOTOX may include: itching, rash, red itchy welts, wheezing, asthma symptoms, or dizziness or feeling faint. Tell your doctor or get medical help right away if you are wheezing or have asthma symptoms, or if you become dizzy or faint.
- upper respiratory tract infection.

Tell your doctor if you have any side effect that bothers you or that does not go away.

These are not all the possible side effects of BOTOX. For more information, ask your doctor or pharmacist.

Call your doctor for medical advice about side effects. You may report side effects to FDA at 1-800-FDA-1088.

General information about the safe and effective use of BOTOX:

Medicines are sometimes prescribed for purposes other than those listed in a Medication Guide. This Consumer Brief Summary summarizes the most important information about BOTOX. If you would like more information, talk with your doctor. You can ask your doctor or pharmacist for information about BOTOX that is written for health professionals.

LAKERS YOUTH FOUNDATION

The Los Angeles Lakers Youth Foundation is a registered 501(c)3 organization and the official team charity of the Los Angeles Lakers. The Foundation's mission is to help underserved youth develop their potential by providing positive experiences and resources in education, health and wellness, and sports. The Foundation also awards grants to other charities that support youth through direct services and programs in these areas.

BUSS FAMILY AND THE LAKERS

During his lifetime, as a result of his considerable charitable efforts, Dr. Jerry Buss was honored by a wide range of organizations that included City of Hope, NAACP, the B'Nai B'rith, United Negro College Fund, United Indian Development Association, National Organization of Women, Boys and Girls Clubs of America, Muscular Dystrophy Association, the Los Angeles Human Relations Commission, Heart of Los Angeles Youth and Special Olympics of Southern California. Following in their father's footsteps, the Buss family's philanthropic and community support is as diverse as the community in which they live and work.

The Lakers and the Lakers Youth Foundation annually donate hundreds of thousands of dollars, tickets, merchandise and autographed items to support countless neighborhood schools, charities and youth groups as well as non-profit organizations that attend to the needs of communities in Southern California.

EDUCATION

The Lakers support several initiatives emphasizing the importance of education.

The Lakers Literacy League, supported by participating sponsor Libby, is a free program for teachers intended to foster the joy of literacy in youth grades K-5 through engaging Lakers-themed challenges and creative projects. Teachers register their classrooms to receive a monthly newsletter with access to three main activities per month. Eligible members of the League then have the opportunity to win prizes for their entire class. To learn more or join the Lakers Literacy League, visit www.lakers.com/community/literacy-league.

NBA Math Hoops, presented by Comerica Bank, is a community program and curriculum featuring a web-based game that allows students to learn and practice fundamental math skills with the use of real statistics from their favorite NBA players. Program content is developed in line with Common Core State Standards and 21st Century Learning Skills, and has been shown to improve students' foundational math and social-emotional skills, resulting in a comprehensive experience for all.

Over the years, the Lakers and NBA Cares have also worked together to renovate learning spaces and STEM labs throughout Los Angeles in an effort to provide safe, stimulating, and comfortable environments for youth members to learn, study and build meaningful relationships.

HEALTH AND WELLNESS

The Lakers and Lakers Youth Foundation are dedicated to helping their fans live a healthy lifestyle and providing youth access to quality programming and safe places to learn and play.

The Lakers Youth Foundation is proud to offer local organizations the opportunity to host a free basketball clinic and fitness clinics for children in their neighborhood. The clinics are designed to promote youth basketball, be interactive, make physical fitness fun and teach kids how to stay active and healthy.

Every season, the Lakers Youth Foundation also provides several basketball court refurbishments in the Los Angeles community. The new courts provide a safe place for youth to pursue healthy exercise and sports. The Foundation has refurbished 40+ basketball courts throughout Los Angeles and Hawaii. These projects allow us to build professional quality basketball courts for the youth in our community. Each court refurbishment includes state of the art upgrades to the court, baskets and overall appearance. The goal is to replicate the Lakers practice court so the youth can play the Lakers way.

Junior Lakers is the Lakers' signature youth basketball program focused on developing fundamental skills, teamwork, sportsmanship and positive community involvement for Los Angeles youth. Powered by UCLA Health, the Junior Lakers program has an impact to reach over 130,000 LA youth basketball players. The Lakers provide resources and support to participating organizations to enhance their youth basketball curriculums. The Lakers also teach participating groups to encourage youth to learn the Lakers-way-to-play which embodies hard work, health, teamwork, dedication and integrity. Junior Lakers has year-round programming, with multiple events including: The Junior Lakers Tournament, Junior Lakers Night, basketball clinics, dance clinics, coaches training, a new season launch event and much more.

The Junior Laker Girls program brings together over 2,500 youth across all Southern California Boys & Girls Clubs. The Laker Girls visit each club and teach kids ages 6-16 how to dance the Laker Girls way. Dancers from each club learn about teamwork, sportsmanship and what is takes to be a Laker Girl before learning a Laker Girls routine. Following the clinics, dancers have the opportunity to perform the dance alongside the Laker Girls at halftime of a Lakers game!

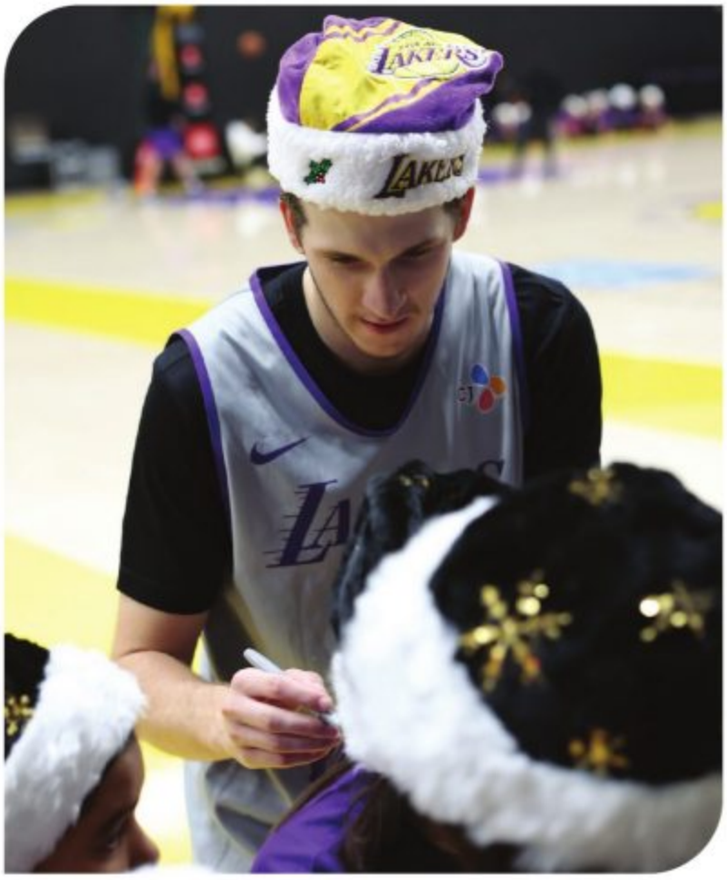
THE ADVANCEMENT OF SOCIAL ISSUES

Through a combination of civic engagement, voter education, digital inclusion initiatives, and internal programs, the Lakers are committed to being an anti-racist organization. Building Bridges with Basketball is a program that serves as an opportunity for members of the Los Angeles Police Department and at-risk youth from local community organizations to engage in conversations around dynamic topics. Using the sport as a bridge for these discussions, the ultimate intention is to break down barriers and build positive, lasting connections that last beyond each session and permeate the community.

The Black Action Network, an employee resource group, works to build inclusiveness and provide cultural opportunities for staff, including monthly Courageous Conversations around social injustices.

For the last several summers, the Lakers have hosted three interns from Historically Black Colleges and Universities through the NBA's HBCU Fellowship program. These programs, among many others, are part of the Lakers' dedication to making profound anti-racist changes in the Los Angeles community.



The Lakers celebrate the power of mentorship through several engagement opportunities. Girl Dad Night encourages fathers to mentor and help pave the way for their daughters in sports and beyond. The Lakers also host a Mentor Night and mentor-themed basketball clinics to provide opportunities for mentors and mentees to build relationships.

IN THE PAINT

The Los Angeles Lakers In the Paint Art Program is an annual initiative that spotlights stories from local artists of color and the meaningful artwork they produce throughout the Los Angeles community.

The Lakers love LA: The neighborhoods, the families, the individuals, the stories. In 1979, Dr. Jerry Buss embedded the Lakers into this culture and united every neighborhood under one team. Today, we are all in the business of expression. It's the approach a player takes to the basket. The color palette an artist handpicks. The bridge a musician writes. The line an actor delivers.

The Lakers spotlight up to 10 artists of color who live in the Greater Los Angeles Area. Artists are then honored by the Lakers organization as their work is shared and amplified.

A SEASON OF GIVING

The annual Lakers "Season of Giving," presented by East West Bank, consists of several events centered around the holidays intended to bring joy and cheer to local underserved communities. The 2024 "Season of Giving" kicked off in November with a Thanksgiving Feast at the UCLA Health Training Center, where 100 students from Crete Academy were treated to a Thanksgiving Feast. Next is the annual Turkey Giveaway at the Salvation Army LA Red Shield Community Center. The "Season" rounds out with a Holiday Party, celebrating fans from several community partners with Lakers holiday cheer. Current and former Lakers players join the events to interact with the community and provide a memorable holiday experience for all.

LAKERS "TEAM UP"

The Lakers Team Up program echoes the team's commitment to the community and gives Lakers staff the opportunity to get out of the office and give back to the community in a hands-on way. Throughout the year, Lakers staff participate in volunteer events that support the core pillars of Lakers Community Relations. These events are designed to make a positive impact in the community and encourage LA residents of all ages to volunteer and engage in community service projects.

GRANTING WISHES

In collaboration with various wish-granting organizations, the Los Angeles Lakers regularly provide game tickets and arrange player meetings for children and adults facing life-threatening medical conditions. Over the past 20 years, the Lakers have granted over 400 special wishes for children and adults from all over the United States, Canada and other countries around the world.

CAMP LAKERS

Camp Lakers, presented by UCLA Health, is committed to providing young players with the ultimate Lakers experience. Camp Lakers features advanced and experienced basketball instructors, who teach with support and resources from the Positive Coaching Alliance and are overseen by members of the Lakers' staff. Camp emphasizes the fundamentals of offensive and defensive basketball taught the Lakers Way. A combination of drill stations, games, league play, playoffs and awarded skill contests highlight an organized and structured week of fun for campers.

Each day special Lakers guests and staff visit Camp to meet and speak with the campers.

MILITARY APPRECIATION

The Lakers and Pechanga Resort Casino created the "Hoops for Troops" program in 2015 to honor those who serve and sacrifice for our country. Hoops for Troops basketball clinics offer the chance for U.S. Armed Forces servicemembers around Southern California to receive tips from Lakers legends on shooting, passing and ball-handling skills, as well as some friendly competition. After the clinic, participants and their families stay and enjoy the Lakers game.

LAKERS YOUTH FOUNDATION IN-ARENA AUCTION

Lakers' fans have the opportunity to support the Lakers Youth Foundation and take home Lakers memorabilia at every home game. During each home game, the Lakers Youth Foundation will host a live auction at halftime. Items will be on display at Crypto.com Arena on the main concourse outside of Guest Services. Items range from current players including LeBron, AD and Reaves to Lakers Legends like Kareem and Magic. Proceeds raised at the live auction directly go towards the grants that the Lakers Youth Foundation awards each season, including the Quarterly Grant, YOU Grant and In The Paint Artist Grants.

COMPLIMENTARY GROUP TICKETS

Each year, the Lakers and the Lakers Youth Foundation donate several thousand tickets to Southern California non-profit organizations so that their members may enjoy a game together. Often, the complimentary group ticket is the non-profit member's first opportunity to see a Lakers game. Ticket requests can be made online at Lakers.com/community/giving.
